High School---make new friends, get to know counselors and teachers, and think about plans for the future.

Chesaning High School---a place where the brand new freshmen, the comfortably settled juniors and even the well-seasoned teachers can learn, create, grow, and celebrate continual new beginnings.

Seniors Cheer Final Year; Teachers

Being a senior is a reason in itself for celebrating--this is the last year of high school; the last year to tolerate jammed lockers, sub-zero study halls and one minute warning bells.

It may also be a time to reflect upon the past; remembering the good times and the good friends that shared them.

Tom Foster, Gertie Coonrod, Randy Wright, Cindy Gasper, Julie Mahoney, Linda Hayes and Stacy Giesken frolic in the snow as part of Comm. Skills class. Marilyn Mose supervises the work being done on a painting, also for Comm. Skills class.

Mrs. Bernadette McCrumb, a former Spanish teacher who retired last June, stands next to a ginkgo tree that was planted in the courtyard in her honor.

Sharon Koenders and Diane Tithof relax, and leisurely paint a poster while a sneaky photographer catches them.

Celebrate Achievements

Teachers contribute much to the school and the students. The work they put forth is appreciated, but not as much as the concern they exhibit. This exhibition takes the students by surprise, yes; but it makes for a very nice student-teacher relationship.

Students Spend Their Spare Time

In Many Different Ways.

School takes a big chunk of a student's life, but there is always time to hang around with friends, or participate in one of the clubs and organizations at CHS.

RIGHT: Sheri Heise, Vicki Klump, Karen Rumisek and Clay Reeves ham it up in "I Want My Ma to Vote." BELOW: It's Freshmen initiation night at this FFA meeting.

Athletes Fire Up C.H.S. Fans

Chesaning High School had a rather slow year as far as sports were concerned. Women's sports continued to excell, namely the basketball team's second undefeated season, and a very promising volleyball program. As always, our athletes showed determination and gave their best for CHS.

Year Of Concern

DOROTHY HAMILL

The USA surprised everyone with a tremendous effort at the winter Olympics, held in Innsbruck, Austria. Gold medalists for the US were Dorothy Hamill, women's figure skating; Sheila Young, women's 500 meter speed skating; Peter Mueller, men's 1,000 meter speed skating.

New York City came close to bankruptcy in 1975, but federal aid postponed such a tragedy. In a coma since April of 1975, Karen Ann Quinlan has been kept alive with the use of machines.

The right-to-die controversy surfaced when Karen's doctors refused to take her off the machines, and her parents took the case to court. The court favored the doctors' views, but the question still remains... does one have the right to die with dignity?

Hot Items Of 1975-76

Questions were being asked about the JFK assassination---some want the case to be re-opened. Betty Ford caused quite a stir over her liberal ideas of family life during a televised "60 Minutes" interview. The Pittsburgh Steelers stole the Superbowl from Minnesota with a final score of 16-6. Malpractice insurance rates for doctors sky-rocketed. Many doctors reduced or refused non-emergency aid for their patients. Cincinnati won the World Series over Boston in a seven game spectacular. The Soviet Union and USA worked together for a change, and made the first joint space flight in July, 1975, called Apollo-Soyuz. After a 19 1/2 month chase, Patty Hearst was apprehended in San Francisco in September, 1975. She was brought to trial on charges of bank robbery and at the time of this writing, is being defended by world famous attorney F. Lee Bailey. The movie smash "Jaws" was released in the summer of 1975, and started a wave of "Jaws-Mania." Two women attempted to assassinate President Ford on two separate occasions in September 1975.

When Freshman enter High School, for the first couple of weeks they are a bit apprehensive about walking in the halls alone. Those first few weeks you hardly ever see a lone Freshman walking in the hall, they are usually in a group of five or six. It seems that these new Freshman have heard that the only way to make it to class safely is either to have a friend in the Senior class or to go in a group. They think that every Senior is out to "get" them. They are almost always looking over their shoulders to see if there are any upperclassman following them so they can pull 'em in the bathroom and give them the "royal flush". But for most Freshman this never happens. Of course there are always the other worries of a new, incoming Freshman.

During the year 1975-1976, the Freshmen can easily understand the Bicentennial Era. They are celebrating the nation's birthday from 1776 when our nation was also a Freshman, making mistakes but living and learning through trial and terror. Thus we begin the year of 1976 when our country is still living and learning, building a better nation because of lessons learned in the past.

This 200 year birthday means that the people of the United States have had other than trouble, they have also found success through the years.

Singularly or together twins are usually thought of as one. Many outsiders fail to see each of them as an individual. For they often grow up being dressed and treated alike. Many people think that they share adventures, interests, and clothes. In reality, often the only thing they have in common is their birthday!

Good Citizenship Promoted By D.A.R.

The D.A.R. Good Citizen is selected in the following way: the senior class nominated three seniors for this honor and from the students nominated, the faculty selects the Good Citizen. The student chosen should be selected on the basis of citizenship, not popularity. The qualities of good citizenship are based on: dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Sue Mahoney received the honor of being the 1976 D.A.R. Good Citizen.

Seniors Look Back On Memories

Steve Chase spends a relaxing moment in the library recalling the good old days of C.H.S.

In their final year of high school, seniors recall all the good and bad times they had during their four years at C.H.S. As freshmen they were confused and lost as they walked down the long corridors during their first day at high school. Although the four years have passed they are still lost and confused as they enter a new world of competition.

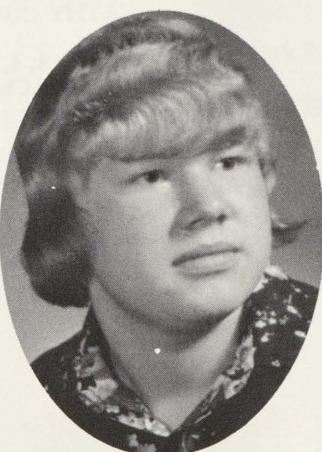

Greg Kubica looks back on Saturday night and wonders why

Chesaning Contributes To Bicentennial Celebration

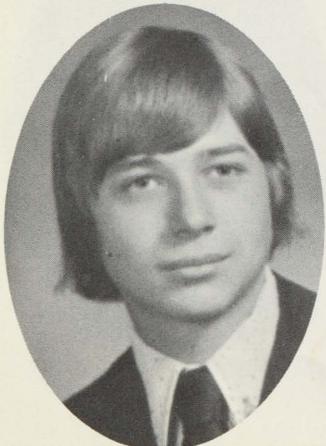

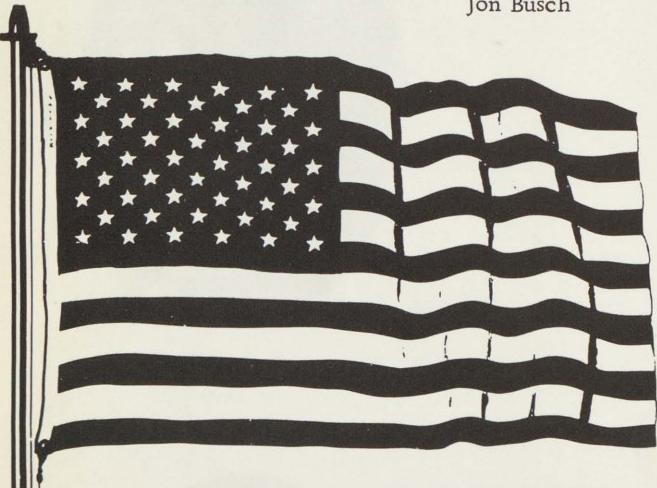

Saginaw County's contribution to this year's Bicentennial celebration was both interesting and unique. The project involved the rewriting of the U. S. Constitution by today's youth. One hundred and forty-eight students from nineteen area high schools were chosen to participate in this one of a kind activity.

The originators of the idea and school advisors started things off in early May 1975. The project slowly was handed to the students and by January 29, 1976 the new constitution was completed. The project, which was first thought of as being a wild idea, later received local, state, and national recognition.

Chesaning's representatives were chosen from the Bicentennial Government Class of which Mrs. Tracy Johnston was the advisor. These representatives were Michelle Dubay, Barb Klump, Napoleon Lewis, Louis Mahoney, Bill Montfort, Jean Otte, Allan Rivett, Doug Schnick, and Sue Ustishen.

The Con-Con, as it came to be called, was the only project of its kind known to have taken place throughout the entire nation and received special recognition from the Michigan State Legislature.

Seniors Learn To Communicate

Dear Prospective Comm. Skills Students,

This is a sneak preview of your rather interesting subject choice. This is not your ordinary, run of the mill class. In this class you may be asked to do some strange and unusual things. For instance you could be asked to clean a chicken, imitate a barking dog, or even talk about the nature of existence. Those are some of the more normal things which have been done. But then there are always the strange things, like listening to sunshine, writing 25 pages on surrealism, and even carrying on a conversation with a hole in the ceiling. Sound strange? Well, it is in a way, but you come out of that class at the end of the year knowing a whole lot more about communicating than you knew when you began the class in the fall.

Signed,
A Senior Who's Been There.

CHESANING ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

MRS. DIEFENBACH

1963

Yesterday can scarcely be remembered, today can not be totally forgotten. The days when we tried to be like Mom are amusing. The times when we dressed up in her clothes...the attempts to smoke Dad's pipe and coughed so much we could hardly breathe - they're over now. We can look back and laugh.

Now we are adults. We've become the new leaders. The future is lying challengingly before us. We must pick it up carefully and do our best to shelter it from destruction; for if we fail, it won't be so amusing. Seniors are you in this (above) picture? Can you remember back that far? A picture like this represents the beginning of a long learning journey, and since you only go around once in life "give it all the gusto you've got" RIGHT: it seems as though Jean Giesken is having a good time just being lazy.

Extra Energy Helps People Help

(ABOVE) Wayne Adams gives an onlooker a disturbed side-glance for insulting "Professional dishwashers". (BELOW) Charles Cooper rests momentarily from his tiring task. He brings many a father, mother and child an exciting piece of reading material—the newspaper! The job gives him satisfaction, both emotionally and financially. Although he does have a few disadvantages: most dogs don't appreciate bike enthusiasts and usually demonstrate their dislike by pursuit. (BOTTOM RIGHT) All of us have to prepare for our future. But some have to go through a lot of the "unwanted jobs" before we can lay restfully "on the top". For example, Ramona Adams.

(ABOVE) Each day brings fun yes, but duties follow along with it. Responsibility must be accepted and maintained. Wayne Pumford daily exercises his sense of dependability as he cleans the barn.

(RIGHT) In order to make bread for himself Rick Wirt finds he also has to bag it. Rick works part time at Frank's Supermarket in Chesaning. (ABOVE) Greg Kubica brushes aside some welcome, white, fluffy material.

Miscellaneous Adventure Prevails

appreciate bike enthusiasts and usually demonstrate their dislike by pursuit. (BOTTOM RIGHT) All of us have to prepare for our future. But some have to go through a lot of the "unwanted jobs" before we can lay restfully "on the top". For example, Ramona Adams.

People Choose Different Kinds Of Fun

(ABOVE) Your eyes aren't deceiving you. You actually do see three of the same type. Strange maybe, but they all have the same "outlook" on life. Randy Ordway, Mark Stasa and Tim McCormick dine at the Ponderosa in a brand new style. Isn't it attractive? Ever feel like you're in the gutter because you're so depressed? A gutter CAN make you feel depressed. BELOW Rod Bliss walks sadly off the alley with a twang of disbelief.

Spare time activities are usually fun. But they can also be very depressing too, if things don't work out just the way you want them to. But the idea behind certain hobbies is to keep you occupied and enjoying yourself while doing so.

There are many such hobbies as you can see here that maybe you do yourself or maybe would like to try. Many of these activities are skiing, snowmobiling, macrame, painting and many more.

One happy activity is throwing a party. (BELOW) sits Cherrie Uehlein, Sue Greenfelder, Sharron Zyrowski, Sandy Gewirtz, Lisa Gewirtz and Roberta Ryan.

Different Happenings Are A

Natural Occurrence . . .

Attractiveness is one of the most fortunate virtues to possess. Being attached to someone special is a special attachment. (BOTTOM LEFT) For example; Steve Carstensen and Theresa Benfield. (ABOVE) They say that it takes one to know one. This enforces that theory! This exhibition of affection demonstrates itself in the "togetherness" of a duck and a bear. If only all of us would dig down into the heart, for that's where the REAL treasure lies. (BELOW) Ever try discussing a subject with somebody and all they did was keep a blank, disgusted, or exasperated look on their face? Locky Clifford attempts to convey something to Deb Stanhope. I wonder if he's succeeding?

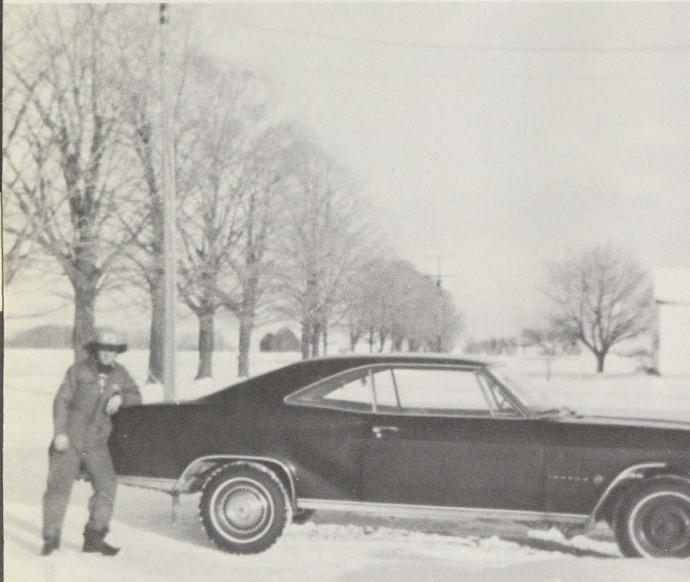

(ABOVE) Kenlyn Hickmott readily accepts the assistance given by Mike Mihalik. (BELOW) The shadows of our yesterdays refract emotions that are deeply felt. Love is one of the most branding of emotions. Love can be exhibited in a glance, a squeeze of the hand, a smile; a touch. When we love, we become engrossed in our lover. When we finally let go we feel empty. Rather than dwell on our loneliness we must look on a different facet. The facet of learning, of gaining a new experience and of obtaining a better understanding of one of the most valuable species and knowledge humans and humanity. ---Sally S.

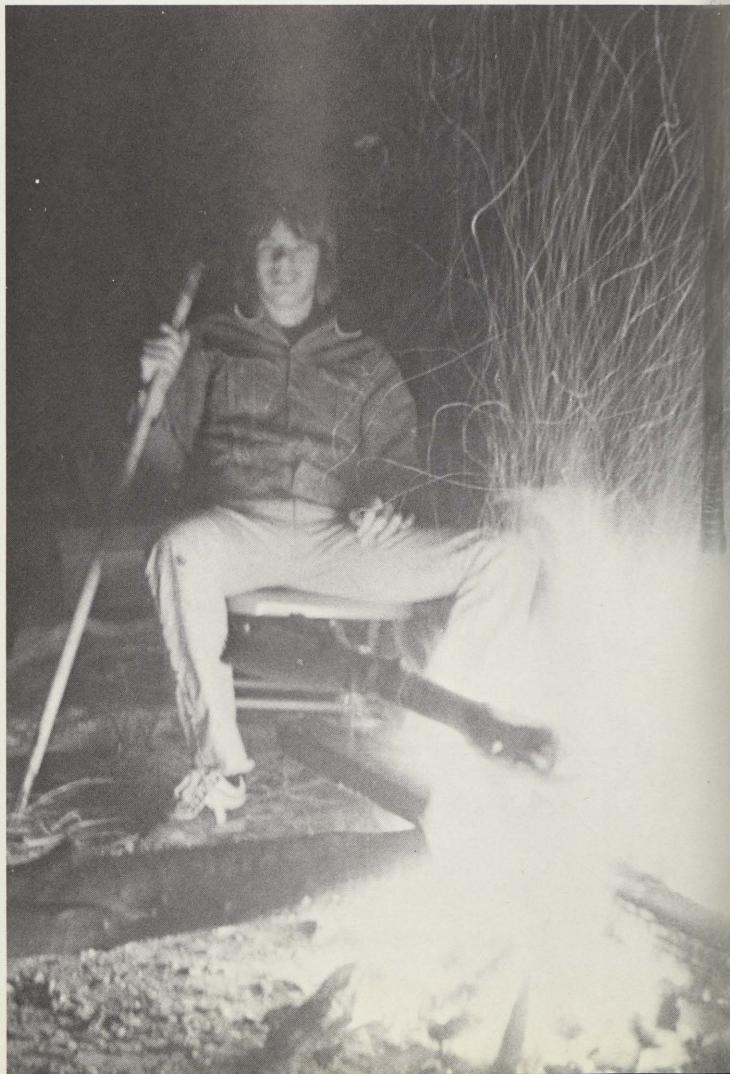

Night time outings are extremely enjoyable but sometimes they can be quite rudely interrupted. The drawing above illustrates one happening that quite frequently occurs in the lives of youth. The police "happen" to catch you at something that isn't usually too well-known to the public. Then the police call your parents. WOW! what a bummer! Suddenly the private, secretive occurrence is broadcasted to the eager, anxious and "all ears" crowd. No more night time outings for a LONG while! Supervision and observation is its substitute. (ABOVE) Napoleon Lewis and Irene Lacansynski share a good laugh.

Are C.H.S. Students Really Concerned About Pollution?

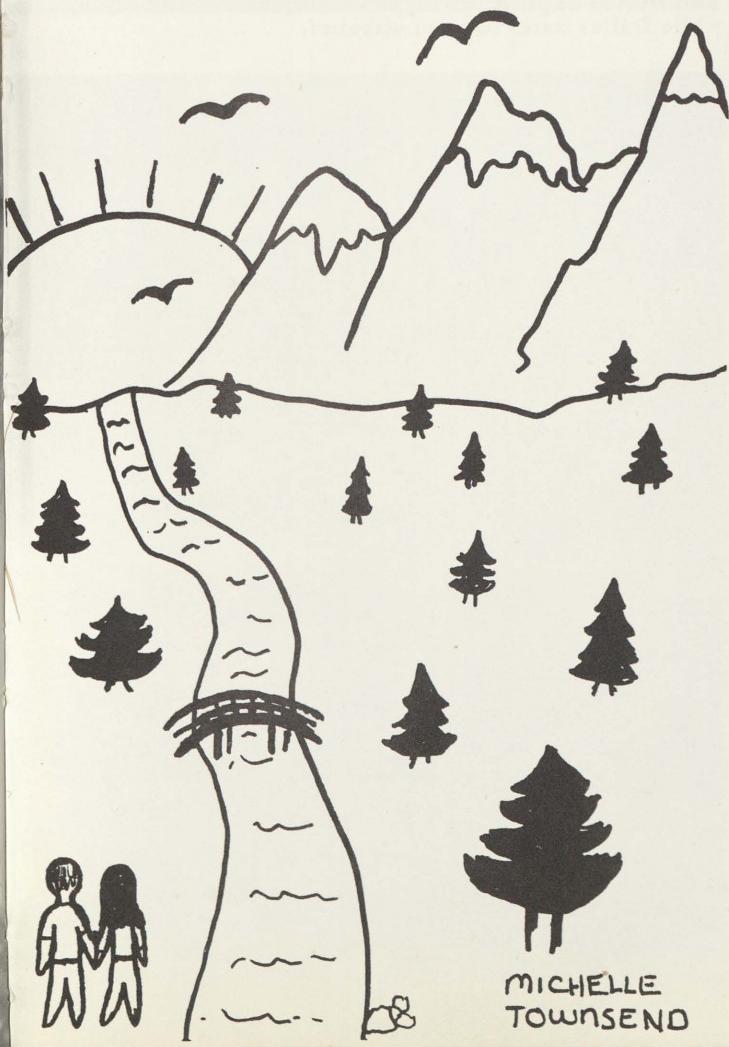

(Top) Sheri Heise and a friend partake of a scenic and very breath-taking view. (Above) Don Conklin leans, dignified, against his '65 Chevy. Fire is a purifier, heater, beautifier and tool. It purifies a needle, heats a pair of cold hands, beautifies a table when attached to candles, and rids us of unwanted material, called trash. (Right) This for example. But if we keep burning unwanted material we will ultimately arrive at the point where our air--a very necessary and vital substance--will be polluted with much foreign material, smoke, fumes, chemicals, soot, etc. and we will resolve to wearing a 'mask' in order to survive. '76 has been a year of concern...

"WATER'S EDGE"

The water is flowing, cascading and descending over the ancient, and already-wet rocks.
Reaching nowhere, gaining no grounds.

The stream makes a musical sound as it interrupts the peaceful, beautiful, spring morning.

Where is its destination?

Flowing over rocks, bugs, and twigs.
Cascading over its obstacles and descending time after time over rock after rock
...endlessly.

Watch the water go.

But where is it going?

Try to watch one little bit of it, and it gets lost.

What is a stream?

An inspiration, an uplifting of spirit.
Something to arouse a vitality deep within your being.

Our slogan should be like that of a stream:

keep moving,
keep going over the rocks and obstacles of life,
over the difficulties and we WILL reach the falls,
but we will glide confidently over them,
hardly realizing we have done so.

Holidays Are A Hang-Up!

(ABOVE) Preparing for the holidays is a lot of work. Some of us get a little too "hung-up" with it though. (BELOW) Everything deserves its own reward, but nobody said anything about surprises.

(ABOVE) Throughout Christmastime we experience many emotions; happiness, cheerfulness, generosity, etc. Kari Horton displays her happiness with an ecstatic smile, while Dallas stares in awed disbelief.

Each egg is different; so is each person. Each egg is relatively the same shape. Every person has relatively the same make-up. What makes people different is their personality, their background and attitudes. Each of these put a different color on the egg of life. Be careful not to crack it and empty the contents. (BELOW) A tribute to the Easter bunny?

ZONZINGO

(TOP) The American flag rates number one and so does the Chesaning Marching Indian Band. (RIGHT) Disgusted Karen Rumisek glares at an unseen victim.

(TOP) They say fingers were invented before forks. But tell me, were mouths invented before fingers? (LEFT) Marching with pride the Chesaning Marching Indians parade through their hometown. (ABOVE) Independence has resounded itself through the years. This courageous man declares it to an awaiting throng.

"Band On The Run" Lions' Opener At Pontiac Stadium

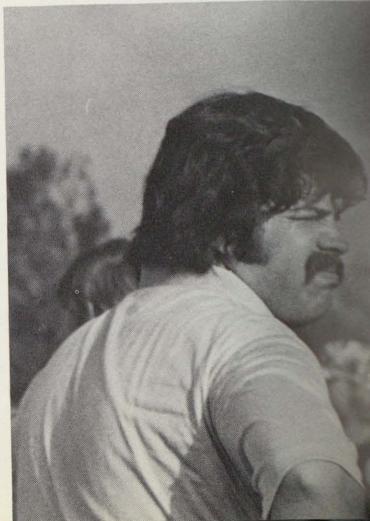

BIG YEAR FOR THE MARCHING INDIANS

In addition to many exciting appearances here in Chesaning, 1975 saw the Marching Indians in more than a dozen cities in three states and one Canadian province. Performing in more than 20 contests, exhibitions, and festivals the band recorded 7 firsts, 12 seconds, and only one third in the various contests and in the process performed before an estimated 75,000 people over the course of the season. Highlights of the year would most certainly include winning the sixth consecutive V.F.W. State title, a second straight Canadian Freedom Festival Championship and the distinction of being the first high school band to perform under the dome of the new Pontiac Stadium, when the Marching Indians appeared at the opening of both the Detroit Lions home season and the new stadium.

Mr. Cook speculates... "let's see; if the guard moved up 8 steps sooner..."

AUGUST 26, 1975 VOL. X

This year marks the first time in the last 11 years that Duane Ferry has not been on the coaching staff at Chesaning High School.

Mr. Ferry has chosen to retire from coaching (not teaching) to begin a new career as assistant principal.

In his 11 years of coaching at CHS, Mr. Ferry has had many good years and of course, a few bad ones. There were many thrills in those 11 years that he, the players, the parents, and the fans all will remember for a lifetime.

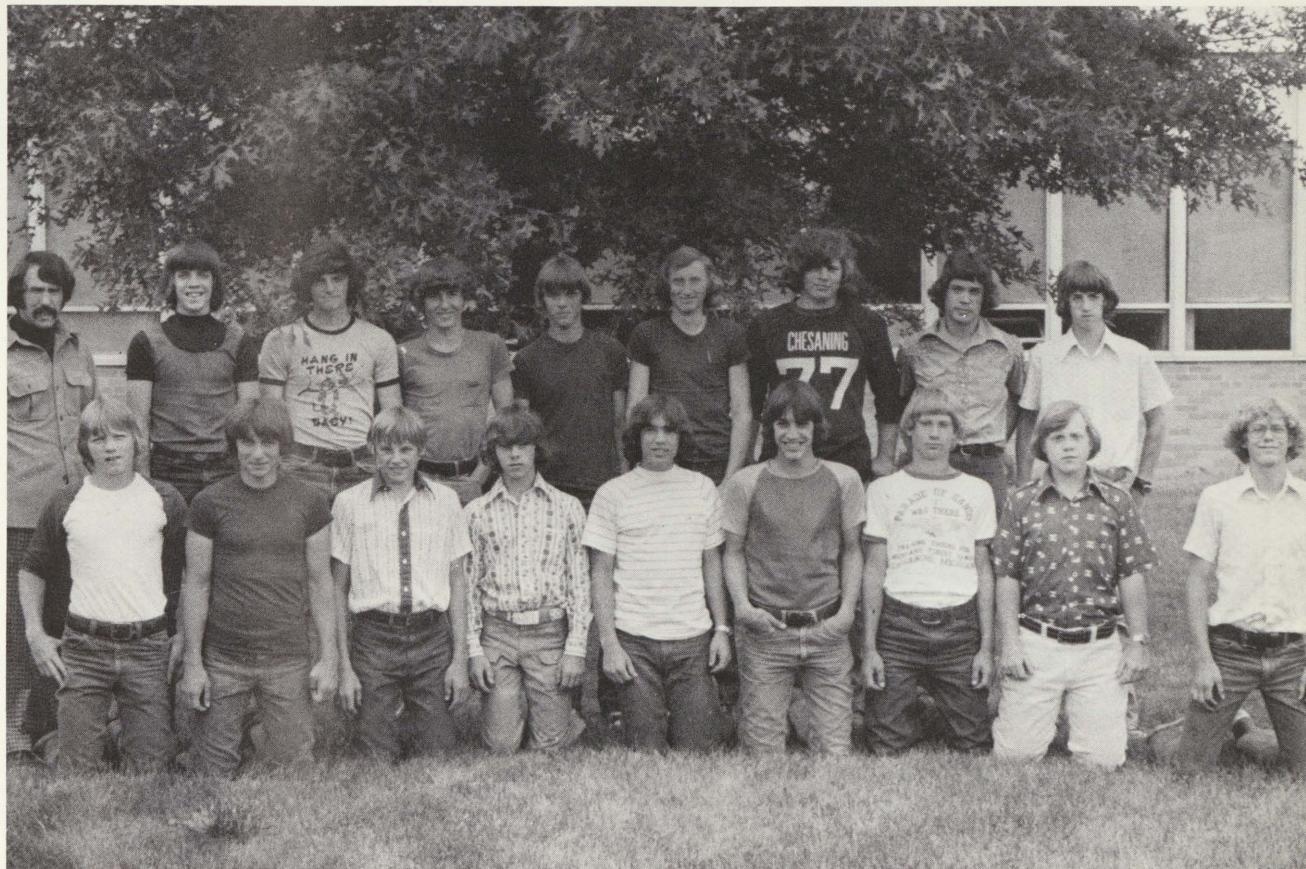

One of Mr. Ferry's biggest accomplishments had to be the 1973 football season. That football team went undefeated and remained fifth in the entire state. Another one to be an accomplishment was coach by winning the district championship in his last two years, and by taking the conference crown in his final season.

After getting off to a good start, the 1975 J.V. Baseball team finished with 4-8 record. The record is not that impressive but the team played hard and a hit here and there could have changed the record around. The team's leading hitter was Marty Turner with a .460 batting average followed by Alan and Arnold Schultz with identical .333 average. Tom Nixon was the leading pitcher, and with a little more hitting support could have had a fine record. Coach Laskey cited outfielder Arnie Schultz and catcher Steve Hemesberg as defensive standouts.

Last year's Varsity Baseball team had one of its best years ever. They won the conference championship and captured their second straight district trophy. They also went all the way to the regional finals before bowing out with an impressive 15-5 record.

The team was led by senior sensation Doug Mort, who was voted Most Valuable Player by his team mates for the second year in a row. Doug's pitching carried the team most of the year as he finished with a 14-1 record and a 0.60 earned run average. Mort also led the team in home runs with 6, and runs batted in with 21. He was voted to both the All-Conference and All-Area teams, and received an All-State honorable mention.

Some of the outstanding team members were: John Sedlar, who led the conference with a .460 batting average, Ric Wesley, Tom Dymora, and Joe Toma, who were all voted All-Conference. Xavier Gonzalez, Tony Polasek, and Larry Mishler contributed with both strong hitting and good defensive play.

Mr. Rhode presents Coach Ferry and the team with the district trophy. To win this trophy the team defeated Okemos 5-2.

The 1975 track team finished with a 3-4 record in the regular season schedule. The team didn't fare too well in most of their invitationals or conference meets. However they did capture the St. Charles Invitational, which definitely would be the highlight of the year. There were several fine individual performers during the year. Ron Stewart set two new school records. Both of them came in the hurdles as he went 20.4 in the 180 yd. low hurdles and 15.45 in the 120 yd. high hurdles. The other record was set by the team of Ron Stewart, Steve Weigold, Bob Bell, and Willie Ervin who covered the 440 yd. relay in 46.2 seconds.

The team showed much improvement over the previous year, and the 1976 team should definitely continue to improve.

The 1975 Girl's Track team had an off and on season. They started the season off by winning, and they ended it in the same fashion. The highlight of the season came in the Conference Meet, where the girls performed well and finished a pleasing second.

Racheal Stuart was an individual standout all year in the hurdles and high jump. She set the only new school record as she cleared 5'2" in the high jump.

This year's team has just about everyone back, and with the experience gained last year, should be much improved.

The 1975 Girls Softball season consisted of only 3 games. Even though softball was a new sport at Chesaning, there were several girls with great ability.

In their first encounter the girls faced Corunna. Even though they lost the game 7-6, the team put up a good showing.

The team faced Ovid-Elsie in their second game of the season. Ovid-Elsie has had an established team for quite some time, and to no one's surprise, our girls lost by a wide margin.

In their third and final meeting of the year the squad traveled to Ithaca to face the Yellowjackets. In spite of their two previous losses, the girls had an easy time of defeating Ithaca, picking up the first Girl's Softball victory in CHS history.

The future looks bright for the team, with this year's larger schedule giving the girls what they need most: experience.

The 1975-76 Varsity Football team ended its season with a very disappointing 0-8-1 record, failing to give new head coach Jerry Molnar a victory. The team was hampered by several key injuries and the toughest schedule in recent years. Although they finished the year winless, the Indians had a good shot at winning most of their games until the final seconds ticked off the clock.

First year head coach Molnar claimed to "have no complaints with the season," but to be "disappointed with the record." Molnar had high praise for several of his players but feels the team award winners are particularly noteworthy. They are: Tony Polasek (MVP and All-Conference Honorable Mention), Steve Weigold and Al Pumford (Outstanding Offensive and Defensive Players), and Willie Ervin (Most Improved).

Although they lost the game, the football team gave the fans a lot of excitement in a close 9-6 Homecoming battle with the Bullock Creek Lancers.

Fun And Excitement For All

Coach Molnar gets into the Homecoming spirit, and possibly starts a new career, during the pep session.

Homecoming is always the highlight of the football season. And, although the football team didn't cooperate with a win, this year was no exception.

All during Homecoming week students get involved by participating in a series of special "days," such as Security Day, 50's Day, and Fantasy Day. On Friday afternoon school is let out early to watch the Homecoming parade. During the parade judges vote on which class has the best float, and this year the junior class float was the winner. Of course, the high point of the week is Friday night, with both the Homecoming game and dance. At halftime of the game the Homecoming Queen is crowned. The 1975-76 Queen is Mary Alden. No matter what the football team does, Homecoming is a fun time for all.

A lot of strange looking people walk the halls during Fantasy Day, and Dan Novak shows he is no exception.

Like all three of Chesaning High School's football teams, the J.V. squad ended its' season with a very poor record. However, the J.V.'s had the honor of taking the school's only football victory by beating Ovid-Elsie by the score of 16 to 8.

In spite of the poor record, Coach Bob Sager feels the J.V.'s will be a valuable addition to next year's varsity squad.

The 1975 freshman football team had an off year. Their final record was a dismal 0-7. Coach Linus Laskey had several fine comments about the team despite their record. He said, "Of our loses, 3 were 'shouldn't haves' and 4 were loses. All the players showed excellent attitudes and were very dedicated. The future definitely holds better things for this fine group of young men."

Conference Match--4th Place
Regional Match--12th Place

The 1975 Golf team finished the regular season with an outstanding 12-1 record. However, in the Conference match, which determines the final Conference standings, the team had a bad day and finished a disappointing 4th place.

Senior golfer Dan Martin was named to the All-Conference team for the second year in a row, and was voted team MVP for the third straight year. Martin, along with team leaders Wayne Pumford and Allan Rivett, will graduate this year, greatly hurting next year's squad. However, with the return of Dave Shooltz and Doug Gross, an All-League selection, next year's team should be a contender.

Indians were off and running right from the start against Ovid-Elsie.

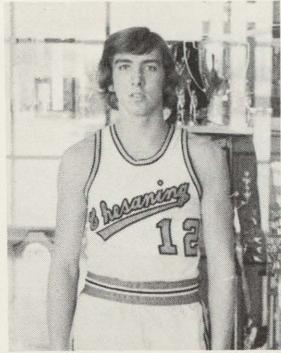

The 1975-76 Varsity Basketball team started off the season expecting to be Mid-Michigan B contenders. Unfortunately, after an encouraging first game victory, they fell upon hard times. Although their regular season record was not that impressive, several of their losses were decided in the last quarter, where the Indians continually came up short.

This year's record was particularly disappointing to the team's seniors. This group of players provided many thrills for Chesaning basketball fans, as they had a combined record of 32-2 in their freshman and sophomore years, including a 20-0 J.V. record.

This years J.V. Basketball team, under the direction of coach Jerry Molnar, didn't have the type of year they had hoped for. In several games the team played exceptionally well, but in others nothing went right.

In a move to strengthen the team, three juniors were added to the J.V.'s. These three contributed greatly in the team's success, and gained valuable playing time they might not have gotten on the varsity level this year. Next year these players will be fighting for varsity spots, with hopes of improving their record.

This year's Freshman Basketball team is one of the most talented squads in recent years. After both the A and B teams finished very successful seasons, their promise for the future became even greater. Mike Pumford, coach of the freshman squad, has much praise for the team. "They're all good shooters," said Pumford, "but their best quality is that they are unselfish. The talk is that they are good varsity prospects, and, with a little hard work and patience, big things could be in store for the team of '78!".

The 1975-76 Girl's Varsity Basketball team finished its season with only one loss for the second year in a row. The only team to defeat the girls was St. Johns, in the district tournament. The defeat ruined the team's hope of winning the state championship. However, the team had many accomplishments to be proud of. Among them were their second straight conference championship and finishing the year with an impressive 15-1 record. All-Conference honors went to: Carlene Ketchum, Mary Jane Theil, Colleen Muirhead, Sharon Koenders, and Diane Novak.

This year's J. V. Girls Basketball team had a rocky start, but improved a great deal over the course of the season. Although their record was 4-10, it could have easily been 7-7 with a little luck.

Sally Gewirtz and Sandy Hines were the leading scorers while Penny Jungnitsch, Bev Gengler, and Sharon Gasper led in rebounding. Even though there were 9 freshmen who made up the team, almost every game was a close contest, and they showed much potential for next year's J. V. and Varsity teams.

On the J.V. level the wrestlers finished with a successful 9-4 record. Under the direction of J.V. coach George Korlowski, the Indians showed much improvement over the year, and several of them will vie for varsity spots next year.

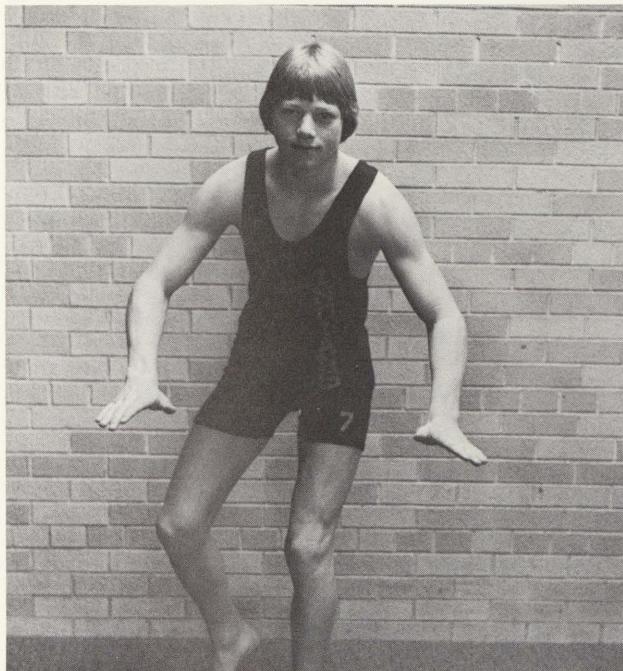

The outlook is good for next year's team. With the strong J.V. squad of this year combining with several returning Varsity standouts, the Indian wrestlers should be the team to beat in '77.

Chesaning Grapplers ended a somewhat disappointing season with a record of 6-8-1. Outstanding performers were Brad Bitterman, who was both conference and county champion, and Randy Wright, who compiled an impressive record throughout the season, and took first place in the county meet. Even though forced to wrestle with a broken hand, Randy narrowly missed the Conference championship and had to settle for a second place finish. Heavyweight Dan Novak wrestled well all year, winning a medal in every invitational, including the Conference championship.
